U. S. Rebuff Expected On Russian Bid

Bulgarian Proposal On Talk To Solve Issues Gets Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's latest and most insistent demand for an East-West summit conference on crucial cold war issues got intensive study—and a cold reaction—today in official Washington.

In a message to President Eisenhower, Bulganin said he proposes to call an East-West summit meeting, perhaps in Geneva, in the next two or three months. Pravda said Bulganin messages went to the 15 NATO nations and the other countries of the 82-member United Nations. Moscow radio said Switzerland and other nations not in the U. N. also received messages.

There was no evidence the United States intends to change its basic policy against having a new top-level meeting under present conditions.

The policy is that any such conference must be preceded by careful diplomatic exploration and evidence that the Soviet government is prepared to make concessions in its position on such issues as disarmament and German reunification.

Officials here were aware, however, that Bulganin's new diplomatic broadside may generate new hope in Europe for reducing the dangers of a devastating nuclear war.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to have expressed some optimism on the prospect of resuming disarmament negotiations below the summit level. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Dulles, in talking with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "expressed some hope about the future."

"He said he had reasons to believe Russia might be more amenable to discussion of disarmament later—that something may develop that would improve the climate for negotiation," Fulbright added, but said Dulles did not discuss his reasons.

Fulbright and several other members agreed, in commenting on the Russian note, that a summit conference is not indicated now, but they said there is a need for preliminary "feeler" negotiations.

Pittsburgh Cop Gets Credit On Off-Duty Record

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A police merit book which yesterday recommended Patrolman John King's promotion to detective took note of King's undercover work, most of it on his own time, leading to the capture last month of a man wanted by the FBI for murder in North Carolina.

Last night, the FBI announced that King—who again was off duty—assisted in the arrest of a Robert Mason, 35, wanted in New Haven, Conn., for armed robbery. King's work since joining the force in July 1954 has earned the 33-year-old Negro officer three other citations, including a letter of commendation from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Soft Coal Production Shows Large Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Coal Assn. today estimated bituminous production for the week ended Jan. 4 at 6,985,000 tons. This compares with 7,415,000 tons in the comparable week a year earlier. In a preliminary estimate, the association put 1957 production at 430,000,000 tons, compared with 426,000,000 tons.

Sailors Claim Cruelty

Head Banging Story Denied By Sergeant

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Marine Sgt. Robert J. Barbuti of Schenectady, N. Y., today denied before a military court that he stomped on a Navy prisoner's bare feet, rammed a pencil up a man's nose until it bled or banged two sailors' heads together to the rhythm of a Mario Lanza record.

The burly former assistant warden at the Sasebo naval base brig in south Japan said he only used his foot to shove the feet of several prisoners into the proper position for attention, tapped a man's forehead with a pencil while bawling him out and struck the sailors' shoulders together—not their heads—"to shake them up."

"In time to the record?" asked his civilian defense attorney, Frank H. Scollins of Tokyo and Los Angeles.

"No, sir, it never happened," Barbuti replied.

The 205-pound, 23-year-old sergeant denied all 28 counts of cruelty to prisoners charged to him except one slugging. He said that man told him, "Sir, I believe you are the fattest man in the brig."

The charges carry a total maximum penalty of more than 30 years in prison.

Barbuti is the 15th of 16 Marine guards at the Sasebo brig to be tried on charges of mistreating prisoners. Eight have been convicted and six acquitted of lesser charges, but the Navy Pacific Command at Hawaii reversed four of the convictions.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Barbuti told the general court-martial board, "I was trying to enforce some kind of discipline."

He also denied earlier testimony that he squirted shaving cream into a man's mouth and ears, kicked a man on the head as he followed orders by crawling on the floor like a dog, or drew a bayonet across a prisoner's bare chest. The trial will continue tomorrow with both defense and prosecution expected to sum up. One member of the eight-man board said a verdict will probably be reached by Monday.

Barbuti admitted hitting Apprentice Seaman George Frazier, a 30-year-old man from Los Angeles, Calif. "The prisoner," Frazier came up to me and said, 'Sir, I believe you are the fattest man in the brig,'" Barbuti testified. "I hit him... not very hard."

Defense Overhaul Need Cited By Rockefeller

Dope Delivery To Bob Burns' Daughter Admitted By Addict

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An unemployed film technician has admitted narcotics officers said, that he delivered dope to Barbara Burns, daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns.

David J. Mack, 26, booked on suspicion of violating the narcotics law, denied, however, that he started Miss Burns on the habit and said he didn't sell her any narcotics, only delivered them for a man he has never seen.

Miss Burns, 19, arrested at her Hollywood apartment Wednesday, told officers that "I'm really hooked" as a heroin addict. She said she was free on $500 bail pending a court appearance next Tuesday. Mack was taken into custody after surrendering himself to his forger and auto theft.

Two other men were arrested with Mack on suspicion of narcotics law violations. They are John De Roo, 30, and Robert A. Gray, 23.

Miss Burns told police that she met Miss Burns "through an other girl, four or five months ago. She was fixed then. She was a lonely mixed up kid."

Mack said he knew police were looking for him in connection with the death of her father in February 1956.

Atlas Fired In 4th Test Of Missile

Pentagon Reports Launching Success At Cape Canaveral

By VERN HAUGLAND

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The U. S. Air Force successfully launched its fourth Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile today.

The giant missile rose from its launching pad, in a puff of white smoke and a tremendous flash of flame, at 10:48 a.m.

Within 15 minutes the Pentagon announced that the launching had been a success—a fact plainly evident to the handful of reporters who watched from beaches some miles away from the fenced-off test center.

"Not Full Range"

The Department said further that "the test, which was not full range, was successful."

This meant that the Atlas, designed to fly more than 5,000 miles, was assigned a shorter range for this test flight and operated accurately over that distance.

The announcement from Washington said the launch was "successfully carried out at 10:48 a.m."

"This test of the Atlas, under development by the Air Force and Convair, was one of a series of intermediate range and intercontinental range ballistic missile flights conducted at the Canaveral station," the announcement said.

It rose slowly through hazy clouds. Its bright trail of fire was visible for almost three minutes.

Archery Over Test Range

The thunder of its mighty engines—a primary motor and two boosters—could be heard even after the missile itself vanished in high clouds.

Shortly before disappearing into the overcast, the missile arched over gradually to the southeast, over the test range which extends 3,000 miles out across the Atlantic.

The Atlas is the American answer to the Soviet claim of intercontinental ballistic capability.

This was the second apparently successful firing of "the Beast," as the Atlas is known to its builders.

On the first two tries, the big missile started to get out of control shortly after launching and had to be destroyed.

Peiping Paper Staff Exposed As Anti-Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China has admitted that no less than 13 staff members of its official organ, the Peiping Peoples Daily, have turned out to be anti-Communists.

One editor, the Peiping paper said, described communism as "a society full of darkness and bloodstains."

The Jan. 5 issue of the paper, just received in Hong Kong, said the most important offender within the editorial fold was Chiang Yuan-Chung, director of the Eastern Division of the editorial department. The rest were editors and reporters.

"These rightists were actively engaged in anti-party, anti-Socialist, anti-people activities," the paper said. "They slandered the Communist party leadership of the paper and described it as 'imperialism.' They also opposed publication of party communications, directives and documents on the ground this would turn the paper into a billboard."

The Sunday Examiner, Hong Kong Catholic weekly, reported that bishop Dominic, the one-day revolt Jan. 1 by the air force and some army units, was interpreted as an effort to prevent a repetition of the one-day revolt Jan. 1 by the air force and some army units.

The short-lived New Year's Day revolt was the first major challenge to Perez Jimenez's military-backed dictatorship since army leaders installed him as provisional president Dec. 3, 1952. A constituent assembly named him president for a five-year term four months later, and last Dec. 15, after a plebiscite in which he was the only candidate, he won another five-year term.

Foreign observers considered the revolt the result of dissatisfaction among younger officers. They reportedly felt the plebiscite was too flagrant a disregard of democratic practices and also that the regime did not give younger men the chance to advance to positions of power and profit.

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson said that was something for other subcommittee members to answer and said, "I am not complaining."

Discussing the capability of nuclear submarines, Rickover said of such craft had remained submerged as much as 15 days.

Eisenhower Speech Held Too General

Johnson Declares He Must Spell Out Program Objectives

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats called on President Eisenhower today to back up with specific blueprints for action the eight-point program he laid before Congress yesterday.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set the show-me tone of reaction to the proposals Eisenhower outlined in his State of the Union message. Eisenhower said they are needed to meet the growing space era threat of what he repeatedly called "Communist imperialism."

Given In General Terms

"The President has in general terms set forth some worthy objectives," Johnson said in an interview. "He has called for strengthening of our allies, greater understanding and commerce between nations and attempts to bring peace to the world. These have long been Democratic objectives."

"Now we are waiting for his blueprints for meeting those objectives. As soon as he lays them down, our committees will promptly consider his recommendations."

Although Johnson and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) both praised Eisenhower's speech, there was mounting evidence of Democratic disappointment that Eisenhower did not make any spectacular proposals for an immediate buildup in American military might.

An analysis of the President's proposals circulated among Democratic senators said that basically the message was "long on proposals and short on performance."

"Even the program to step up national security boils down to pumping a little more money into existing projects and promising vaguely to reorganize the defense structure," the analysis said.

Republicans were practically unanimous in their praise of Eisenhower's personally delivered message. Some Democrats lauded it but many of them were critical.

Eisenhower was interrupted 41 times by applause during the 44 minutes he addressed a joint session of Congress in the House chamber. Republicans provided most of the applause, but Democrats often joined in and occasionally led the outbursts.

The show of enthusiasm, like the world situation, differed sharply from that at the start of 1957. Only five rounds of applause interrupted the entire 1957 address to Congress.

Pleased By Reception

The White House described Eisenhower as "very pleased" with the reception he received.

Rayburn said he was "glad to know the President is alive to what the American people are disturbed about and this is the bickering and dissension among the services in the Pentagon."

"I hope he gives Secretary McNamara the authority to get the job done," he said.

Briton Claims Ex-Baby 'Stole' Wife From Him

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—A former baby was sued for damages yesterday on a charge of enticing his former sister away from her husband.

Robert King, 41, asked 250 pounds ($700) heart balm in a legal action against the ex-baby, Neil Dunseith, now 21.

King said his wife, now 36, used to baby-sit 18 years ago with Neil, whose parents lived next door. As the boy grew older, King related, the relationship changed, and his wife has not left him to live with Dunseith.

The court took the case under advisement.

Eisenhower Speech To Stir Debates, Offered No Alibi For Past Actions

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — What counts in connection with President Eisenhower's warmly received State of the Union message to Congress—is what he and Congress do for the rest of 1958 to back up what he proposed. This is for sure: there will be intense arguments this year over whether Eisenhower is doing the right things, or enough of them, to keep abreast of Russia or to try to get ahead. The arguments have already begun. As they unfold, the most puzzled man in America will be the average citizen to whom rockets, missiles, satellites, electronic engineering and research on space flights are still a mystery. He'll be in poor position to judge who's right if Eisenhower proposes 300 million dollars for research on some out-of-the-world problem and his critics protest that at least twice as much is needed. It will be years—probably after he's left the White House—before the wisdom of what Eisenhower proposes and Congress does this year can at last be tested against the accomplishments of the Russians. Eisenhower showed awareness of the need for strenuous effort in the contest with Russia. He offered no alibi because the kind of effort he calls for now wasn't made before. But the message was only a statement of problems in general terms, a document of intentions. In the coming months Eisenhower will have to offer specific proposals to Congress. As a sign of conflict to come, even before he began talking, three high-ranking generals had found fault either with what Eisenhower has already begun to do or what he plans to do to build American defenses. And the Democratic leader of the Senate, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, in a most unusual talk to the Democratic senators Tuesday made it clear, without saying it in so many words, that the Democrats will do the leading if Eisenhower doesn't. The three critical military men were Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of Army research and development; Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff; and Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, director of the Air Force's ballistic missile program. All three testified this week before the Senate subcommittee on preparedness headed by Johnson—which is investigating various phases of defense. Gavin was so angry about what Eisenhower plans to do for Army research—not enough, he said—that he decided to retire. He said the Army is deteriorating steadily. White testified the administration was not providing enough funds—in the budget Eisenhower will offer Congress Monday—for the Air Force, that it was not getting enough bombers to serve until there were enough missiles, and he even criticized the progress being made on intercontinental missiles. And Johnson—who told news-men what Gavin and White said to his committee—reported he thought some of the missile programs should be speeded up. For Eisenhower 1958 does not look like a year of easy sailing.

done regardless of who stays or who has to go," Rayburn said. A high administration official said Eisenhower had in mind a move to bolster the secretary of defense with additional authority over military spending. Leading off his eight points with his reference to defense reorganization, Eisenhower called for a speedup in production of missiles, nuclear submarines and other modern weapons. Congress seemed disposed to give him all the funds he might ask in this field, and possibly more. There was evident opposition, however, to the President's call for continuation of foreign aid at a high level and continuation of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five years. Many Democrats indicated they want to go further than Eisenhower's proposal for a billion-dollar, four-year program to promote education and research. There was general applause for Eisenhower's statement that he expects the budget to be balanced despite increased expenditures. But there was evidence of stiff opposition among Democrats to any move to cut conservation and welfare funds to counter the defense increase. Eisenhower made no reference to specific programs in saying some less essential activities must be curtailed or eliminated. Eisenhower's call for efforts to bring about disarmament and peace was generally applauded, although except for a cooperative "science for peace" effort he proposed little that was new. In London, editorial comment on the speech was lukewarm and headlines went instead to Russia's new proposal for a summit conference of East-West leaders. The Conservative London Daily Telegraph noted approvingly "the spirit of vigor and determination which pervaded the whole document," but the independent Times and the Liberal News Chronicle said the speech contained nothing new. Tass reported in Moscow that Eisenhower spoke of preserving strength and working for true peace, but said most of the speech was "taken up by military problems."

Fear Voiced By Senators On Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today President Eisenhower will have to use all the power at his command to prevent Congress from slashing foreign economic aid "below the danger point." Fulbright and Senators H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.) agreed with Eisenhower that it would be "reckless folly" to cut such aid to provide more money for missiles and other weapons. But Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said it would be "the course of reckless folly" to develop and produce these weapons "and expand our economic aid program abroad at the same time." Eisenhower is expected to propose about $3,900,000,000 in military and economic aid for the fiscal year starting next July 1. He told Congress in his State of the Union message that the Communist world is mounting a massive economic offensive against the free world, including the uncommitted and underdeveloped nations. Fulbright said, "It will be extremely difficult to get Congress and the country to follow the President's recommendations for economic loans and an extension of the reciprocal trade program." Humphrey said in a separate interview: "We can't afford to spend money to meet possible military aggression at the expense of what may be an even more dangerous economic aggression." Smith said, "I hope Congress will go along with the President's proposal for economic aid—it is vital to our whole defense." Sparkman said, "At this time the worst thing we could do would be to neglect the uncommitted countries."

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

The Big Test

THE 85th CONGRESS, in its second session, faces perhaps the biggest test that American lawmakers have confronted since World War II. It will be judged by the way it rises to the necessities put upon this country by Russia's advances in satellites and missiles. President Eisenhower's administration is being measured in the same fashion, of course. But our government does not end at the White House gates. Congress has its own responsibilities for the safety and well being of the American people.

SOME ALREADY have judged the President and found him wanting in leadership. They appeal to Congress to fill the gap. Whether or not the criticisms are just, the critics certainly recognize that there are limits, too, on what the lawmakers can do. The 531 men and women of the House and Senate cannot function as an executive body. For one thing, the Constitution forbids it. For another, effective decision is well nigh impossible from such numbers. But wherever the administration's programs for the missile age seem to reflect timidity, narrow scope, or lack of imagination, the lawmakers can try to give them the sweep and breadth and positiveness they ought to have.

WHAT THE COUNTRY has a right to expect of them in this situation is not a routine rubber stamp on the President's proposals, but a searching appraisal and then a revamping where that is deemed wise. Inevitably, many lawmakers are mere followers. But Congress basically is intended to be a creative agency in American government. At no time in this century has there been greater need for its creative powers to be exercised to the fullest.

Cultural Anarchy

A STRANGE fungus on the tree of American cultural development is the notion that one man's taste—in music, art, literature and so on—is necessarily as good as another's. By this standard, or rather by this abdication of standards, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony is no better than the latest Tin Pan Alley drivel and El Greco's paintings are no better than calendar art; they're merely different. If, so this idea goes, you happen to prefer rock 'n' roll and sugary views of girls in tight shorts and cowboy boots, that's all right; no one can say that Beethoven and El Greco are superior. Those who hold this view are often somewhat belligerent on the subject. They are inclined to grow testy when anyone suggests that there are sound, thoughtful bases for discrimination in such matters. This is cultural anarchy. It is subversive of all the values and judgments built up by perceptive men during many centuries. If we are to assume that one man's taste is as good as another's, without regard to training and thought, the schools might as well quit trying to develop understanding of the arts. Men are equal before the law, but they are not equal in matters of taste. The highest appreciation of the arts, of all things creative, is acquired, developed. If it were not so, then the saccharine whine of a half-baked adolescent singing the latest pop tune's lament of unrequited love would have to be considered the equal of, say, Handel's "Messiah." Despite the cultural anarchists, that is not the case.

Postal Revolution

ANYONE WHO GAVE more than passing thought to the annual Christmas season mail rush will take it as good news that the nation's postal service is on the verge of a big modernization program. A change to more efficient methods that will consume less manpower and get the job done faster is long overdue. What the Post Office Department contemplates is a far greater and more imaginative use of machinery to do the work of men. Clyde Gray, the department's director of research and engineering, says that the new system will be operating in the nation's 50 largest post offices by 1968. Ten years is a long time. It seems reasonable, however, when one considers the antiquated methods in use today, even in the largest post offices. Switching to machines, and at the same time keeping up with the rising flood of mail, will be nothing short of revolutionary. Whenever it is accomplished, it will be welcome.

Economist Makes Answer To Critics

NEW YORK—A blistering letter to this writer from the public relations adviser of Walter P. Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union, dramatizes the problem of revision of the National Labor Relations Act.

If legislative amendments, following revelations before the McClellan Committee, are limited to tightening the penalties against stealing and conversion of union funds—useful as such changes will be—they will not go to the heart of the issue.

From the standpoint of the greatest good to the greatest number, it seems to me that the need is also to take cognizance of the artificial, fiat power which Congress has conferred on voluntary associations known as labor unions. In order to safeguard the public interest, it is desirable, in the spirit of the British legislation, to set up standards of responsibility commensurate with the power created.

SPECIFICALLY, a union official, in order to qualify, should be required to do more than merely take a non-Communist oath. The record shows that there are non-Communist racketeers, as well as party member offenders.

Referring to a speech made by this writer in Springfield, Mass., before the Springfield Business and Professional Women's Club, Frank Winn, Director of Public Relations, International Union, United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America—UAW, writes:

"I noted with a good deal of amusement a number of excerpts from your address to the Business Women's Forum in Springfield, Mass., as carried by the Springfield Union. It is a curious fact that virtually all 'experts' of your economic persuasion find thievery, immorality, extortion and widespread corruption a lesser threat to our society than the introduction of an idea which proposes change.

"Since you have always opposed change, it is not all surprising that you too prefer the Becks, the Hoffas and others of their stripe, to those who would try to improve the economic conditions of millions of working people and their families. Organized greed, for which you speak, has always acted on the premise that it is better to buy a union leader than to buy an idea."

The foregoing is quoted as a momentary sample of distortion.

Mrs. Winn's diatribe is refuted factually by the very news report in the Springfield Union to which he refers.

In giving excerpts from my hour-long presentation, the Union quotes me as saying: "And in this struggle for volume . . . the basis for an upsurge in economic activity starts in the research laboratories and universities."

Yet, in commenting on the report, Mr. Winn charges me with always opposing change. Mr. Winn, this column has consistently pointed out through the years that nothing is permanent in life except change. The laboratories in industry and in the universities are dedicated to the introduction of change.

But this truism does not preclude the desirability of auditing and critically weighing specific proposals for change. Not all change is progressive; some indeed is retrogressive. This point is amply supported by a survey of the political innovations made within the past generation in Nazi, Fascist and Communist countries.

THERE IS NO issue over the fact that Walter Reuther is a dedicated man. To the best of my information, Reuther has been free of the type of conflict of interest which bedeviled Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa. Reuther and his colleagues in the AFL-CIO should be commended for their denunciation of racketeering and crookedness by union officials.

But such desirable moral indignation should provide no smokescreen to exempt Reuther from having his own economic proposals and ideas carefully scrutinized. While economic fallacy is indeed preferable ethically to racketeering and stealing, it can, nevertheless, be even more costly in its impact on material wellbeing.

IN THE PAST, the controversial Reuther has captured headlines by disseminating plausible economic ideas, such as the allegation that the auto makers could produce guns and cars side by side; the idea that manufacturers could raise wage rates without increasing selling prices, and the new trial balloon for a four-day week without any loss of "take-home" pay.

As a controversialist, Reuther expects criticism. His creditable opposition to sin should not immunize him from having his own economic proposals critically examined. No counter blasts by his press agents will deter those who take their own responsibilities seriously.

Safety Is State Problem Conference Says

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—America's schools and courts are going to be asked to take on a bigger load in the effort to cut highway deaths.

The car manufacturing industry in Detroit, and traffic police all over the country, also must be examined to determine what extra effort they must put out to reduce the highway toll.

These are the findings of the recent Public Officials Traffic Safety Conference, sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

The meeting was unique because it was the first time such an imposing list of state governors and traffic safety officials gathered to attack this grave problem on a national basis. And the results were impressive because there was general agreement reached among the officials as to what had to be done, in what order, to start paring down auto accidents.

A general sentiment also expressed at the meeting was that traffic safety is not a problem for the federal government to tackle through such things as uniform traffic laws. Some opinion has been growing among a few traffic experts that Uncle Sam must step in on this problem, because the states have failed.

TOP PRIORITY was assigned to improving driver licensing requirements. The specific plan which received most support was a requirement that all persons under 18 must complete a state-approved driver education course in order to get a license to drive.

This would mean practically all public high schools installing driver education courses which had to meet a state standard. It would also mean that private driver schools would have to come up to this standard.

Insurance companies have come up with solid statistics to show that drivers who have had professional driver training have a substantially lower accident rate. Starting new drivers off with basic safe driving know-how is the best way to attack the highway toll, experts believe.

Second most important program to launch against auto accidents is the establishment of uniform minimum fines and jail sentences for traffic violators, the Conference decided.

When a driver is aware that a violation of a certain traffic law will get him the same punishment whether he commits it in the city, country or neighboring state, he tends to be more careful, it has been determined.

NEW legislation in most states would be required to provide this brake on traffic offenders. And it would take cooperation and support from traffic judges.

The Conference also recommended that court costs be abolished as an item separate from fines. This will help to eliminate the "profit motive" in traffic court administration, it is pointed out. The handing out of excessive traffic tickets tends to break down respect for the law just as much as too lax enforcement of it is known.

Sometime soon key members of the Conference will be going to Detroit to confer with the auto manufacturers as to what they can do to improve traffic safety. The car makers were complimented at the meeting for voluntarily halting the excessive advertising of increased horsepower.

The industry has also agreed not to engage in so much racing competition for the sake of advertising fodder. But the industry is still sensitive about the criticism which claims that the new cars are too fast and too powerful to be safe.

THE AUTO industry points with most pride to its development of better brakes, improvements in visibility and general car performance and dependability as being safety factors. It claims that a more powerful car gives the driver a greater margin of safety on passing, especially. Another study project which the Conference has set for itself is an investigation of the minimum needs of traffic policemen

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—This reporter seems to be on something of a virtue kick in terms of New York these days, but it won't last. We've fussed around with sane driving and a few other things, including the head shrikers and Elvis Presley, and now let us turn for one of the last of the high-minded columns to teenagers and our modern world. I'm much less worried than most people seem to be.

Fate, and a pair of parents blessed with four teen-agers of the usual two sexes, invited us over for dinner the other night and when we arrived the four teen-agers were winding up an afternoon dance and record playing session with eight similarly aged friends.

So we had a round dozen, average teen-agers in view. Six boys, six girls; some soft drinks, a record player and some pretzels, plus cushions on the floor.

WE NODDED and went on to the library, unwilling to inflict creeping old age on the kids, but they asked us both in and made proper introductions. All 12 girls included, rose, shook hands, acknowledged the eight introductions and sood waiting for us to make the next move. We said: "See you later, family. We're looking for your Pa."

"No, wait, please," one said. A girl of the family. "Could you find a sofa seat and hear us out? We're talking about college, where to go and what to be."

SO FOR HALF an hour we heard 12 teen-agers between 13 and 17, talk unself-consciously, bluntly and without undue vulgarity about their futures. It was a little overwhelming.

There was no sudden, hysterical case of "Looka me, I'm going to be a scientist" or, "I'm going to be a space pilot." None of that new nonsense born of a sudden dashing of our national hopes and beliefs.

Two girls wanted to write, one boy wanted to write. Two girls didn't want any career besides marriage, children and a decent, hopeful intelligent interest in community life at all levels. Two boys wanted to be doctors. And so on.

THESE WERE children from about six economic levels. One girl has unusually wealthy parents, one boy's father is the milkman in the area. He delivers it, not produces it on a farm. One boy's father is a druggist, one girl's father sells a certain make of medium-priced cars. There were no social lines evident on economic grounds.

There was a kind of pride in scholastic accomplishment. The milkman's son obviously had all their respect because he would graduate next June at the top of his class and, probably, get the $5,000 scholarship a learned and wealthy Chinese has made available to the school.

One girl said to me: "Howard is such a brain, such an enormous brain. We all wish we had his good sense."

THESE WERE public school children. Most of them need not have been. Their parents could have afforded private schools. Certainly, the child of the wealthy parents could have gone anywhere to school—France, Switzerland, England, New England. But the public high school in the area is an exceptional one and the parents, mainly, wish to create no snobbish notions. Therefore: public school.

We listened in fascination as they roved the ground of their times. They had opinions, quietly spoken and without posturing, on politics, the United States in today's world, their possible futures as against their probable futures. They spoke earnestly, but with a sense of humor, too.

There was good-natured chaffing among them. It was all healthy, charming, and in a real sense exciting. It was exciting, because these average children, a cross-section in every way of any average small American community, made intelligence seem a norm.

THEY SPOKE, without using names, of two girls in school who were seeking popularity in an ancient way, of three boys who were so-called "rocks," hard-bitten, pretending to be tough, callous and useless. They agreed that of the three one was of an amazing order of intelligence and they could not understand what motivated his semi-delinquency.

I have no great point to make. Except that 12 kids made me feel just wonderful about the generation into whose hands we are going to turn the whole shebang one of these years. It sounded all right for the shebang.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—The Army is supposed to build men.

It did even better by Cy Leslie, a big ex-sergeant in the Signal Corps. It gave him the initial idea that led to a multimillion dollar a year business.

Cy, who is 35 and has the height and the heft of a professional football tackle, today is known as "the king of the kiddie records." Last month his firm pressed its 100 millionth record for children.

"Looking back, I guess I owe a lot to the Army," he said.

At the time—during World War II—Leslie didn't figure, however, the Army was doing him much of a favor by sending him to such places as New Guinea and the Philippines. He was lonely, as all soldiers are lonely.

One day he got a greeting card from his mother, back in Brooklyn.

Gazing at the greeting card, Leslie mused: "Boy, if this thing could only talk!"

IF ONLY A greeting card could talk, Cy brooded over the thought. Well, why couldn't a greeting card carry a vocal message? He decided it could.

Released from the Army in 1946, Leslie gambled his savings on creating a line of recorded two-bit greeting cards.

"I had only $1,000—and I put every penny into it," Cy recalled. "We wrote our own lyrics and music. I slept on the desks at night because I was too tired to go home. My mother even helped by trimming the paper-based records with her scissors."

"The cards caught on fast. The first year we ran $25,000, the second year $300,000. Then we couldn't give them away. The cards were a fad, and the fad was over."

CY THEN DECIDED to take an even bigger gamble—to enter the kiddie record field in competition with the major companies.

He decided the only way he could win was to put out a 25-cent product and aim for a new mass field through supermarkets, toy stores, and mail order houses.

"I picked up a number of then unknown singers and used them to make children's records," he recalled. "Later on some of them went on to fame in the adult music field."

And Cy, who now has three children of his own, made one other major decision—that none of his musical versions of classic fairy tales and fables would have frightening endings.

"We'd rather take a few liberties with the story than scare a child," he said. "In our record of Little Red Riding Hood, the bad wolf is caught and tied up—but he isn't axed. We don't want to give kids nightmares."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—It looks as if, thanks to the Russian spunk, Senator Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, is going to get a free ride. Not into outer space, but back into office. The Soviet satellite appears to have blasted away his opposition.

"Scoop," as the 45-year-old Democratic Senator is known, has almost clinched reelection this fall because he stands forth as a prophet who foresaw Russia's missile advance, and tried to warn the administration.

The Jackson forces ascribe this happy situation to many things, but my political evaluators tell me the overriding factor is Scoop's status as a prophet of trouble. This is rather a new switch in politics. Being a harbinger of ill tidings ordinarily is not deemed the best way of garnering votes.

I RAN INTO SENATOR Jackson at the opening of Congress and asked him how he became such a sad seer. He replied that there was no soothsaying about it. He declared the facts were there all the time, but that most of those in high authority wouldn't believe them. Scoop said simply that he believed them. This made him rather a contrast to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who apparently didn't believe even his own brother.

Jackson declared there is nothing new in any of the stuff that has come out since Russia launched its first satellite. He says he will bet there is nothing in the Gaither report that wasn't available before.

"I always believed," went on Scoop. "that the Russians were smart enough to know that if they were ever able to defeat the United States they must defeat us at our own game. They must top us in industry, science, and technology."

"Three years ago it should have been clear that the Russians were making fantastic progress toward beating us in the area of missile deliverability. They said so themselves. I believed 'em, that's all."

Scoop held his hand about four feet from the floor and added: "From the time we were kids this high we were brought up to believe that no one could touch us. Not only did we believe this, but our allies did too. We were victims of self-delusion."

I asked Scoop Jackson how he thought the spunk would affect the fortunes of Democratic brethren who are running this race. He replied with an absolutely straight face:

"I don't want to discuss it from that angle. It sounds political."

ALL THESE westerners that are exploding out of television sets have done more than promote the sale of cap pistols for kiddies. They have put a form of the old six-shooter back into production for older child minds who crave to shoot off real bullets.

Colt's Patent Fire Arms Company announces it has a .22 caliber single action revolver, or six-shooter, available. With rare salesmanship it calls this resurrected weapon the "Frontier Scout" and describes it as "an ideal companion piece for the Peacemaker," which is a six-shooter .45. It adds that:

"The current television fad for Westerns brought about a demand for the Peacemaker."

Ballistic missiles also are popular on TV now. I wonder if they will be made available to the kiddies too?

PSC To Air
Dispute Over
Telephone Ad

CHARLESTON — The Public Service Commission will air next Wednesday a controversy between S. O. Watts, operator of a Huntington Plumbing and electrical corporation, and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co.

Watts has contended that a C. & P. agent misrepresented to him the cost of some advertising in the yellow pages of the Huntington telephone directory.

He said that he was led to understand that the advertising plus his business telephone charge would amount to $23.75 per month.

Also set for next Wednesday is hearing of a Norfolk and Western Railway petition for authority to discontinue agency service at Rippon in Jefferson County, on its Shenandoah Division.

To be heard next Monday is a request by G. Scott Lilly and Robert C. Lilly for authority to operate a taxi service under the name of Mercer Cab Co. in Bluefield and vicinity. That case will be heard at Princeton.

Ice skating at the Gephart School playground and at Constitution Park attracted several hundred persons last night.

Mountain State miscellany:

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co.'s Board of Directors has approved expenditures of more than $133,000 for service improvements in the Dunbar area. The improvements include the construction of an equipment building at Alum Creek and the installation of dial central office equipment.

West Virginia University has been designated a testing center for the 1958 National Teacher Examination in February. The test is for college seniors who plan to teach. Scores made on the examination are used to establish the graduate's teaching ability in submitting employment applications.

Dr. A. H. Wilson, pastor of the First Christian Church in Beckley, has been appointed to the Board of Trustees of Bethany College.

A 1958 project of the Junior Bar section of the West Virginia State Bar is to hold a traffic court conference for judges, prosecutors, justices of the peace, court clerks, and attorneys. The conference is designed to improve the court handling of increased traffic accident and congestion problems.

Dr. T. A. Boyd, research consultant for General Motors Corp., will address West Virginia Tech students at Montgomery next Tuesday. The speech will be centered around the life of engineer-inventor Charles F. Kettering. Dr. Boyd's appearance is being sponsored by the school's engineering department.

In December, 1957, 210 applicants were examined for insurance agent's licenses in West Virginia. State Insurance Commissioner Harold E. Neely said. All but 37 of the applicants passed the examination.

An advisory committee for the West Virginia Centennial Commission is being considered by Commission Chairman Charles Hodel of Beckley. Hodel said the committee, when appointed, would help bring all the sections of the state together in planning the centennial celebration.

Harold Sandler, a British violinist who records for a major record company, has been named director of the Meyer Davis Orchestra at the Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs. He assumed his duties Jan. 1 after a New York city appearance.

The value of permits for new construction and repairs issued last year in Charleston was the third highest figure in the past eight years at $7,872,219. Building Inspector W.E. Kirk announced. However, the figure was $2,024,256 less than the 1956 total.

Selection of West Virginia University's yearbook queen will be announced Feb. 8 at a dance in Mountainlair, student activities center of the Morgantown campus. Candidates for queen of the Monticola include 19 of WVU's most beautiful and popular woman students.

Four members of the Bethany College faculty, including President Perry Epler Gresham, have been invited to attend a three-week workshop on higher education at Colorado Springs, Colo., this summer. Bethany was selected by the Danforth Foundation as one of 25 liberal arts colleges in the nation to participate in the program. Dr. Gresham has appointed Prof. Robert A. Preston, dean of students; History Prof. William Young, and English Prof. John Taylor — to accompany him.

Warden Of State Pen
Denies Firing Reason

WHEELING — Ousted State Penitentiary Warden E.H. Tucker denied assertions which he claimed were made in Charleston that the Senate refused to confirm his appointment because of a high escape rate at the penitentiary.

Rucker was one of the three

Underwood administration appointees to be turned down by the Senate last Tuesday.

Tucker said fewer prisoners had gotten away in the year in which he served than during any other except one since 1950. He put the number at 20, of whom 13 were at Camp Fairchamps, where medium security measures are maintained, and not at Moundsville, site of the state prison proper.

Though in 1956 the number of escapes was six, during the rest of the period from 1950 onward it varied from 23 to 141 annually, Tucker said.

He added that he did not know why his appointment, effective May 1, 1957, had not been confirmed but that he did not hold a grudge against the Senate.

Solon Wants Wiretapping Ban

BALTIMORE — Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th) will press the General Assembly next month to do away with authority for even law enforcement officers to tap a telephone wire.

The staunch advocate of civil liberties said yesterday he will ask the Legislature to repeal the present Maryland law to regulate wiretapping which he helped draft. The law passed in 1956 allowed tapping only by the Attorney General, state's attorneys and police officers if they first were given permission by a circuit court.

The Legislature approved such procedure on the belief that police would obey the law.

Baltimore Police Commissioner James M. Hephron admitted at a hearing Wednesday that some telephone had been tapped without the stipulated court order.

"It now is obvious," Del. Robinson said, "that no police commissioner can back up this guarantee."

Earlier, the Legislative Council had accepted Del. Robinson's bill for introduction Feb. 5 to revoke police authority to obtain court wiretapping orders and leave it solely in the hands of the attorney general and the prosecutors.

His move to give nobody the authority followed a recent Supreme Court decision which cast legal doubt on all state laws granting permission to listen in on a telephone conversation.

C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general, said not enough doubt was raised in his mind and he intended to enforce the Maryland law as long as it is in effect.

In requesting permission to tap a telephone, law enforcement officials must state:

1. There are reasonable grounds to believe that a crime has been committed or is about to be committed.

2. There are reasonable grounds to believe that evidence will be obtained essential to the solution of such crime, or which may enable the prevention of such crime.

3. There are no other means readily available for obtaining such information.

The Supreme Court has ruled that such evidence is not admissible in Federal Court cases and raised a question whether state laws conflicted with the federal laws.

Cites Need For Study

CINCINNATI — Jewish leaders in this country need to know more about the traditions and hopes of Judaism, says Dr. Jacob R. Marcus, noted Jewish historian. If they don't read and study to gain "a more adequate understanding of Jewish life and its aspirations," he says, "American Jewry has no significant future."

MR. EMPLOYER Budget Bill Study Starts

CHARLESTON — The Senate Finance Committee of the 1958 Legislature embarked on its study of a whopping $105,700,000 budget bill yesterday after both houses adjourned for a long weekend.

Both the House and Senate spent a few minutes yesterday on routine affairs and called it quits until 2 p.m. Monday.

The House Finance Committee, headed by Del. Cline "D-Mingo", has scheduled its initial meeting for Monday.

Added to the impact of the bud- get bill was increased as a result of Gov. Underwood's call for $2 million dollars in new and increas- ed taxes.

The budget bill, primary purpose of the current legislative session, was introduced Wednesday.

Kanawha Homes Sub-Standard

CHARLESTON — The Kana- wha Welfare Council reported to- day that 35 per cent of all Kana- wha County homes are sub-stand- ard, which it defined as: "dila- pated and lacking running water or private bath or toilet."

Irving Bowman, chairman of a council housing survey sub-com- mittee, said that conditions were not being improved: "it would ap- pear that all around us we are creating slums and potential slums."

WASHINGTON — D. C. Trans- it Co. proposes to buy 100 new buses, 83 of them air conditioned. The company has asked the Dis- trict of Columbia Public Utilities Commission for approval of an es- timated outlay of 'around' three million dollars for the vehicles, which would be ordered for de- livery this year.

General Gets Game Fine

BALTIMORE — Duck hunt- ing over a baited area cost Lt. Gen. Edward T. Williams, deputy commander of the Continental Ar- my Command at Fort Monroe, Va. $25 yesterday.

It was the same fine paid earlier by his hunting companion, Maj. Gen. Rinaldo Van Brunt, chief of staff of the 2nd Army at Fort Meade, Md.

Williams didn't appear to an- swer the charge of hunting over an area in Kent County baited with corn. His attorney entered a plea of no defense.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thom- sen accepted the same pleas for William B. Bergen and Nicholas Voorhies, hosts of the two gener- als. The judge fined them $100 each because their employer, the Martin Co., had a membership in the hunting club.

The four hunters were arrested on the opening of the wild fowl season Nov. 7 by federal agents.

Jonathan Winters TV Best Is Ad Libbing

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — (INS) — NBC Pres. Bob Sarnoff's official pres- ent to Jack Paar for making the "Tonight" telecasts a success: henceforth it'll be called "The Jack Paar Show" . . .

Peggen Fitzgerald was glib, pretty and stylish on the Paar show . . .

Ed Wynn's wower about Jack Benny on Shower of Stars last night: "He's such a nice old man."

Peter Lawford's plentiful charm got "The Thin Man" renewed . . .

One hit parade singer (at least) is going; they're auditioning new gals . . .

The secret of Jonathan Winters' TV success with Paar now is ap- parent: Just keep a formal script away from him, let him ad lib, and he's a constant howl . . .

Tim (The Kingfish) Moore with Jack Early today also was so funny, they'll have him back to- night . . .

Playhouse 90 was an exception- ally good TV drama; Sterling Hayden was fine as was his whole cast . . .

Playhouse 90 had a terribly heavy fixation for the word "louse." Used it about a dozen lousy times . . .

Whiskey ads are taboo on TV, but they get constant "product impressions" with all the West- ern saloon boozing. . . . Jobless Pay Claims Up

BALTIMORE — New claims for unemployment pay last month were 20 per cent higher than in November and 71 more than in December of 1956.

The new claims represent "new spells of unemployment," accord- ing to the Department of Em- ployment Security.

A total of 123,075 checks amount- ing to $3,692,359 were handed out to the jobless in Maryland during December. The amount of money was nearly 70 per cent higher than the month before and 253 per- cent more than for December the year before.

Robert B. Kimble, executive di- rector, maintained the degree of unemployment has not increased to the amount the payments indi- cate. The 1957 Legislature in- creased the weekly benefits and the length of time for which they may be collected.

However, he mentioned that railroad employees are not includ- ed in the figures. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad laid off more than 3,000 since Nov. 1.

Heart Group Sets Annual Fund Appeal

Plans for the annual fund appeal of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association have been formulated, and a goal of $21,000 set for the campaign.

In opening the drive, F. Allen Weatherholt, president of the organization, said there are 239 children in the two counties who suffer from heart disease and who get care and service from the Heart Association.

This year, it is anticipated that 1,000 volunteers in these two counties will call upon the more than 20,000 homes, to tell the Heart story and solicit contributions.

Weatherholt reminded his committee that the program during the current fiscal year is costing over $2,000 more than was anticipated, because of the increased number of children with rheumatic fever, and the increased demand for hospital beds, oxygen equipment, wheel chairs, and other materials made available by the association.

The campaign this year will include the annual Heart Sunday effort, solicitation of special gifts, advance gifts, assistance from clubs and organizations through special events, and solicitation by individuals, as well as through the mails.

Members of the campaign committee besides the association's president, include James W. Bishop, vice president; Thomas F. Conlon Sr., treasurer; Ernest B. Treal, past president; Dr. Benek and the University of Virginia, dietitian; chairman of the medical advisory board to the Air Force during the Korean War.

Ford, a native of Bluefield, W. Va., is the commission's newest member.

He is a graduate of Princeton University and the University of Virginia, and served as a first lieutenant in the Air Force during the Korean War.

Ford, a native of Bluefield, W. Va., is the commission's newest member.

JAMES W. BISHOP

Bishop Will Be Candidate For Treasurer

The candidacy of James W. Bishop, 718 Washington Street, to succeed himself as county treasurer, subject to the Republican primary May 20, was announced last night.

Bishop has served as county treasurer since October 1, 1951, when he was appointed by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of the late Frederick C. "Buck" Dreyer. He was elected to a full term in 1954, defeating two men in the GOP primary and being unopposed in the general election.

The candidate for re-election as county treasurer is active in a number of civic and fraternal organizations and has served as head of several with which he has been affiliated.

An accountant, Bishop is also president of Louis Stein, Inc., local funeral directors, and secretary of the Cumberland Stockyards, Inc. A native of Lonaconing, he has lived his entire life in Allegany County.

City Revises Region Flood Warning Plan

The 1958 edition of the Flood Emergency Warning Plan for Cumberland has been issued by the Engineering Department of the City of Cumberland.

Copies of the plan, revised under the direction of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, are being sent to chairmen of all committees here and to the heads of cooperating flood warning committees in nearby communities.

The information will be incorporated into a comprehensive flood warning manual issued by the Washington District, Corps of Engineers, covering the entire Potomac River.

Cumberland's first coordinated Flood Emergency Warning Plan was formulated by former City Engineer Ralph R. Rizer in 1938, when stream gages were installed at Baltimore Street, Johnson Street, in the Narrows and at Kitzmiller.

The plan was later revised to function as a flood alert, disaster, and rehabilitation organization for Area 17 of the Corps of Engineers alert plan which covers the greater Cumberland area and the communities of Corrigansville, Elerslie, Locust Grove, Mt. Savage in Maryland; Glencoe and Hyndman in Pennsylvania; and Patterson Creek and Ridgeley in West Virginia.

City Hall here is the headquarters for the Area 17 flood emergency program and various City Hall workers comprise the staff which collects all available information during flood alerts and evaluates the data from the scattered sources before passing it on to the public through all available sources.

Information on the facilities of the Telephone Company, radio stations, Cumberland Police, Street and Water departments, Maryland National Guard, State Police and the Cumberland Auxiliary Police are listed.

Detailed information is also given on the agencies which are available to aid in the rehabilitation of flood victims.

EDWARD R. MUIR

Sheriff Muir said he will file his candidacy with the Board of Election Supervisors today.

A native of Lonaconing, Sheriff Muir was reared in Midland and resided there until he became sheriff in 1946.

Active in many civic and fraternal organizations, Sheriff Muir is a past master of George's Creek Lodge 161, AF&AM; was elected Monday night as first vice president of the Past Masters' Association, composed of past masters of the ten Masonic lodges in Allegany and Garrett counties; is a past councilor of Hope Council 30, Jr. O.U.A.M. Midland, and past chancellor of Anchor Lodge 111, Knights of Pythias, Midland.

Sheriff Muir also is a past patron of Martha Washington Chapter 10, Order of the Eastern Star; is a member of Frostburg Lodge 470, BPO Elks; past president of the Duke Memorial Bible Class in Cumberland, member of Farrady Post 24, American Legion, in Frostburg; Vulture 104, 40 and 8, Cumberland, and All Ghan Temple, AAONMS.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Muir served in the 71st Infantry Regiment of the 11th Division.

Sheriff Muir worked as a miner along George's Creek until beginning his duties as deputy sheriff in 1941. Before his first term as sheriff, it was impossible for the sheriff to succeed himself. However the law was later changed and Sheriff Muir has been re-elected twice.

"I believe the public is satisfied with my performance of my duties as sheriff of Allegany County because they have twice re-elected me," Sheriff Muir said in announcing his candidacy.

Meeting To Air Use Of 'Y' As Police Boys Club Base

A committee appointed by Ernest B. Treal, president of Central YMCA, will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the 'Y' with representatives of the Police Boys Club to discuss the possibility of having the club use 'Y' facilities as a clubroom.

Dr. William R. Allen was named chairman of the committee. Serving with him will be Roy W. Eves, H. D. Barber, Robert E. Pence, John E. Geare, Karl W. Bachman and Robert E. Moore. Representing the Police Boys Club will be Judge Morgan C. Harris, president; John F. Daum, director; Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn, Milton Bernstein and Mrs. Betty Williams, police woman.

Mrs. Williams has been invited because of Chief Flynn's concern over an increase in delinquency among girls.

The plight of the Police Boys Club was emphasized when the Mayor and City Council was asked Monday whether the building on Paca Street back of the West Side Fire Station might be used as a clubroom. That building has been used in the adult education program of the Board of Education since World War II, but the program no longer is operated.

The club has been using facilities at 117 North Centre Street but is unable to obtain a lease and lacks funds to pay rent. About 600 boys between the ages of 7 and 19 belong to the club.

Two Piedmont men were killed this morning when the municipal garbage truck in which they were traveling was struck by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's "Diplomat," just off West Virginia Route 46—the Piedmont-Keyser Road.

Mileage Rate Approved By County Board

Workers To Get
Eight Cents Per Mile
For Use Of Cars

The matter of mileage payments for county officers and employees who use their own autos came up again at today's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A resolution was submitted by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson calling for eight cents a mile gasoline payments. The resolution calls for all travel expense vouchers covering travel by county officers and employees in other than county owned vehicle be submitted to the county board for approval. They must contain daily beginning and ending speedometer readings.

Backed By Wilson

Commissioner William A. Wilson seconded the motion by Wilkinson to pass the resolution on the basis of seeing what developed as far as the Assessing Department is concerned. Wilson said he seconded a motion for an eight-cent a mile gasoline payment last December 6.

Wilson explained that the Assessing Department personnel has been using their own cars in their work. He said they do not want to use their own cars under the eight-cent a mile payment then the county will have to furnish them cars. Wilson pointed out.

Commissioner James Orr voted against the resolution, which passed 2-1. He repeated his statement of last week that the flat $75 per month paid to the five assessors is much cheaper than providing county owned vehicles.

Must Pay Expenses

Goorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, said the law provides that the county pay all the expenses of the assessors in their work of assessing property in the county. He added that the car expense would be covered under the law. The assessors can not be forced to use their own cars for their work, he added.

Wilkinson's resolution also provides that no travel expense be approved covering home to office travel for any such officer or employee.

It also contained the proviso that only an eight-cent a mile payment be made in all cases and not at any previously established flat rate.

Republicans Slow To File For Offices

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland voters with their usual surplus quota of Democratic candidates for public office wondered today when the Republicans would come up with their choices.

So far, Glenn Beall's bid for reelection to the U. S. Senate is the only one on record for the party which has won a majority of state-wide offices since 1950.

Reports circulated that an Alphonse-Gaston act between two Congressmen being urged to try for governor had been settled. The latest word was that James P. S. Devereux of the Second District which is centered in Baltimore County has been outmanned by Edward T. Miller of the Eastern Shore's First and will run.

Both had been sort of saying "after you" to the other. One of the reported hitches in addition to reluctance was Gov. McKeldin's desire for a candidate other than Devereux.

McKeldin, who can't try to succeed himself after two straight terms, reportedly has been convinced that Devereux is the most likely to succeed.

As running mates for Beall and Devereux, the names of E. Dale Adkins for attorney general and W. Rae Dempsey Jr. of Baltimore for comptroller were prominent. Adkins is a former state senator from Wicomico County and circuit judge. Dempsey is customs collector for Baltimore.

Although the Republicans have been spared a major nominating battle among themselves in the past eight years, scattered rumors persisted that McKeldin himself might create one this year.

It was that failing to persuade Beall to swap places with him he will try to win the Senate nomination anyway. Beall filed for re-nomination Tuesday after saying that McKeldin had wished him success.

Class Meeting

Members of Allegany High School class of 1933 will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA to make further plans for their reunion, according to John F. Vandergift, chairman.

TRUCK IN WHICH TWO DIED — Two men were killed when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a B&O train this morning just off the Piedmont-Keyser Road. The frame of the vehicle is shown at left above with the cab partially torn off. The bed of the truck, torn off by the impact, is shown at right. The men were driving a load of trash, shown strewn on the ground, to the Piedmont dump, located about two miles east of Piedmont.

J. E. Spitznas Dies At Home In Baltimore

Former Supervisor
For County And Allegany Principal

Dr. James E. Spitznas, 65, in-struction director of the Maryland State Department of Education and high school supervisor in Allegany County from 1932 to 1934, died this morning at his residence, 7317 Rockridge Road, Villa Nova, Baltimore.

State education officials said he had been ill with a heart condition for some time.

Born July 24, 1892 in Frostburg, he received a doctor and master degrees at Dickinson College, the latter in 1921. He also received a master's degree in 1928 at Teachers College, Columbia University, and a Doctor of Education degree from George Washington University in 1947.

In 1919 Dr. Spitznas returned to Maryland after teaching in New Jersey and Pennsylvania schools. He taught history and Latin at Beall High School in Frostburg, and also served as principal there from 1926 to 1929.

Dr. Spitznas was principal of Allegany High School from 1929 to 1932 when he became Allegany County high school supervisor. In 1934 he went to the state department. He was supervisor of curriculum with the state unit from 1945 to 1947.

Affiliated with the School Detachment in France during 1918, he also was active with a school group serving children in Allegany County in 1945. In 1956 he served with a national educational committee and state organizations.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth (Daugherty) Spitznas, and two children, James E. Jr., who is serving in the armed forces, and Miss Elizabeth L. Spitznas, a student at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Dr. Spitznas was founder and president of various social agencies in Allegany County, 1942-43. He wrote a number of educational articles in national and state magazines.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth (Daugherty) Spitznas, and two children, James E. Jr., who is serving in the armed forces, and Miss Elizabeth L. Spitznas, a student at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Specifications will be drawn up for bids on installation of acoustic tile in the main reading room of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, will draw up the specifications. The county is having the work done as it owns and maintains the building on Washington Street.

A representative of a firm which deals in acoustic tile appeared before the board today with samples of various kinds of acoustic tile. The work was requested some time ago by Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian. She explained that the noise in the room was distracting to persons doing research or reference work.

Unfortunatly, a company spokesman noted, the largest drop last month was in high-rated traffic, and this may mean that revenues and earnings will hit harder than the car-loading statistics would indicate.

Miscellaneous loadings also were down sharply, totaling 40,682 cars against 49,476 a year earlier—a loss of 17.77 per cent. Coal traffic held up fairly well at 57,669 cars for the final 1957 month compared with 59,076 in 1956, off only 2.38 per cent.

Unfortunatly, a company spokesman noted, the largest drop last month was in high-rated traffic, and this may mean that revenues and earnings will hit harder than the car-loading statistics would indicate.

Canal Park Plan Draws Area Backing

Senator, Two Delegates
Favor Development
By U. S. Agency

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — in the continuing battle of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, three Republican state legislators from Washington County went on record last night as favoring federal park development along the canal.

Earlier this week the Hagers-town Manufacturers Bureau and the Washington County Farm Bureau expressed opposition to federal development of the area in Washington County.

The bureau termed a federal plan, "unnecessary, extravagant and highly detrimental to the interests of Washington County."

At a meeting at nearby Williamsport last night attended by another 50 persons, Sen. Downey and Dels. Porter and Berkson went on record as favoring federal development.

Many of those opposing a federal plan contended it will hamper industrial development by limiting access to the river.

Rep. Hyde (R-Md) who with Sen. Beall (R-Md) is proposing federal development, said last month their bill grants "perpetual easements, subject to reasonable conditions as are necessary to protect the interest of all people."

Methodists Approve Plan For Building Indictments Put On Docket

Plans for a $350,000 church structure were approved at a membership meeting of First Methodist Church Wednesday.

The plans call for a "U" shaped building to be erected in the 1700 block on Frederick Street, according to the pastor, Rev. Everett W. Club.

Included will be an educational building, a connecting chapel and parlor with Sunday School classrooms below and a large sanctuary. The overall project will include a new residence for the minister. There will also be ample parking and recreational space on the eight-acre lot. The $350,000 figure does not include the cost of the parsonage.

The educational building is to be constructed first at an estimated cost of $100,000. J. Alfred Hamme and Associates, York, Pa., the architects, are preparing drawings which should be completed by April 1. It is hoped that work will be started in May.

The present church property at 127-29 Bedford Street is being offered for sale.

Menonite Group Lists Services

Rev. J. L. Stauffer, former president of EMC College, Harrisonburg, Va., will speak at the Pinto Mennonite Church, on Saturday and Sunday.

He will preach on "Miracles, Signs and Wonders" on Saturday at 7:30 p. m. and "Perils of the Christian" on Sunday at 9:30 a. m. and "Faith of Our Fathers" on Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Music will be provided by a mixed quartet.

Cold Spell Comes To End Dramatically

The cold spell came to a dramatic end in this section as temperatures climbed for the near zero experienced at midnight to 39 degrees at noon today.

That rapid rise took place in Oakland, according to R. E. Weber, Weather Bureau observer.

And there were indications that the warm front was moving eastward as the temperature in Cumberland rose from 7 degrees at 8 a. m. today to 28 degrees at noon.

The warm air put to an end one of the longest and most continuous cold spells experienced in recent years in this section.

The Weather Bureau forecast calls for it to be fair and not so cold tonight, with lows between 24 and 30 degrees. Tomorrow is to be partly cloudy with little temperature change.

The low readings this morning were LaVale, 5; New Germany, 2; Elkins, 4; Frostburg, 24; Town Hill, zero, and Oakland, 3.

Indictments against three persons have been placed on the open docket in Circuit Court.

Grover Cleveland Houck was indicted on two charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

He is alleged to have taken items valued at $400 from John Sturtz and $6 in value from Herbert Sturtz.

Lewis Yankelievitz, city, was indicted on five charges of embezzlement in connection with transactions in the sale of freezers. One charge is that he embezzled a total of $3,294.15 from the Second National Bank.

Other charges consist of alleged embezzlement of the sums of $1,027.50, $685, $342.50 and $342.50 from the United Refrigerator Company of Minnesota.

William James Tilton, 35, who gave his address as Fort Carson, Colo., when arrested early last year, was charged three times with counts of forgery and four of false pretense in bad check passing in the county.

Oldtown Area Constable To Be Named

Man To Be Picked
From List After
Civil Service Test

A constable will be named for the Oldtown district from a list of men who will be available after the January 27 Civil Service examination to be conducted by the county.

Frederick J. Taylor, who had appeared before the board two months ago to complain of "hot rodders" and acts of vandalism in that section, said he would like to have the job on a non-salary basis.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, said that even on that basis a Civil Service examination must be taken for anyone to be named to the post. He explained that the constable has to file bond and take the oath of office and this procedure requires the Civil Service test.

To Attend Meeting

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, requested permission for Harry Skelly, his assistant, to attend the meeting of the County Engineers Association in Bel Air next Wednesday.

Chapman said Skelly is treasurer and a member of the board of directors of the association. Commissioners William A. Wilson and James Orr voted to authorize the trip but Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson voted "No."

John J. Rowan, chairman of the LaVale Zoning Board, appeared to ask the commissioners to withhold any action on an application for a junk yard permit in District 29 until after his board meets to act in the matter. A permit is sought for a site off the Winchester Road. The county board agreed to await the Zoning Board's action in the matter.

Deodorizers Approved
John Powell of the Murray Chemical Company appeared before the board in connection with supplying electric deodorizers for the rest rooms in the Court House and County building.

Powell said that he could furnish them for $1.75 per month including service and maintenance. He explained that some deodorant liquid is left over from a company which previously provided service and this will be used and he installs his devices.

Powell was authorized to proceed with the installation of the devices as soon as the present liquid deodorant supply is used.

Police Group Serves Six Army Months

Another group of Army reservists who completed their required six months active duty training at various installations, has returned home and joined the 372nd Military Police Company (USAR), which has headquarters at Lonaconing.

They will complete their reserve obligation by attending training two hours each week and by attending two weeks summer camp.

The MP unit, one of the nine reserve outfits working out of Cumberland in the armory on Walnut Place in Cumberland, has its training at the home of Alvin C. Neal Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lonaconing, each Monday from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Company Formed

A commercial parking lot is being prepared on the south side of Union Street at its intersection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing.

The Downtown Parking Corporation has been formed and has purchased the former properties occupied by the Merchants Wholesale Grocery Company and the Tri-State Electrical Company.

It is estimated that the lot will hold from 70 to 80 cars. The facility will be leased to parking lot operators from Washington.

The Baughman Construction Company is razing the buildings on the site and it is hoped the area will be ready for use within the next 30 to 60 days.

This purchase represents the first acquisition by the corporation comprised of stockholders including retail merchants, banks, business men and individuals.

The corporation plans to purchase additional sites so as to provide parking for the vast number of local residents, as well as those who come from the surrounding tri-state area to do their shopping and to transact business in downtown Cumberland.

The need for such a movement has long been apparent, and a spokesman for the corporation emphasized that the Union Street venture is just the beginning. In the event the initial effort is well received, other areas will be acquired, he added.

Police Report Additional Entries Tried

Four new attempted break-ins and entering cases were reported by city police this morning, three of them occurring on Virginia Avenue, and the other in the downtown section.

The three Virginia Avenue incidents are thought to have been made by a youth since one was reported at the scene of one of the attempted entries at the approximate time it occurred.

Officer P. C. Jenkins said the entry attempts were made at Decker's Tavern in the 400-block of Virginia Avenue, and Nixon's Barber Shop and King's Tackle Shop, both in the 200-block.

An attempt was also made to enter the premises of the Wilson-Pugh Hardware establishment, police said. A portion of the glass in the front door of the establishment was broken in an attempt to enter the place, it was reported, but the entry was foiled by the system of locks used to secure the entrance.

A screen was torn loose from one of the rear windows of the Virginia Avenue tavern, and a heavy screen piled loose from the rear door. However, officer Jenkins said, the door was bolted on the inside.

Cardboard was removed from a rear window of the barber shop and glass was broken in the rear door of the other business establishment. Entry could not have been made in either instance, Officer Jenkins said.

Four youths who admitted to three recent breaking and entering were sentenced yesterday in Juvenile Court. The oldest, 18-year-old James Walters, formerly of Flintstone, was given a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction and fined $100 by Magistrate Fred Anderson.

The other three were placed on probation, two for one year periods, and the other for six months.

SITE OF NEW PARKING LOT — The Merchants Wholesale Grocery Company and Tri-State Electrical Supply Company property at the corner of Union Street and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is being torn down to make way for a parking lot. The operation has been acquired by the Downtown Parking Corporation, comprised of local merchants, bankers, and businessmen. The lot will hold from 70 to 80 cars and is expected to be ready soon.

Keyser Mayor, Council Hear Blocked RR Crossing Gripes

KEYSER — Mayor Richard E. Romig and Council heard another complaint about the excessive blocking of the Main Street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at their regular meeting this week.

Mayor Romig arrived in time to hear the complaint and explained to council that he had been held up in traffic on Armstrong Street because many of the vehicles were waiting to turn onto Main and cross the crossing, which was blocked by a coal train.

So when James R. Broome, who lives north of the tracks on Maple Avenue, registered a complaint about the crossing being blocked for long periods of time, the mayor lent a sympathetic ear. Broome said individual complaints appeared to do no good in alleviating the situation, and asked council to take official action even if it meant passing an ordinance limiting the time the crossing could be blocked.

Termed "Intentional" Broome also said he thought some of the blocking of the crossing was "intentional" by train crews. Councilman Raymond Murray said he had received complaints from citizens who reported that train crews had been early and had made untimely remarks to people who complained when the crossing was blocked. He also mentioned the incident last Sunday morning when an irate motorist hit a fireman with a rock in an altercation over blocking of the crossing.

The net result was that the Mayor and Council instructed City Clerk C. F. Rice to write to B&O officials both here and in Cumberland, asking for a conference to discuss the situation. In other action council turned down the State Road Commission's request that the speed limit on Armstrong Street be increased from 25 to 35 miles per hour.

Oran Brown, a resident of the area, made an impassioned plea that the speed limit be held to 25 miles per hour, pointing out the danger to residents and pedestrians.

The commission's request pointed out that 85 per cent of the vehicles using the street traveled at an average of 38 miles per hour and the other 15 per cent above that speed. Council, however, refused to increase the speed limit.

Other Action Taken Council also: Told Keyser Fire Company Chief Robert Dorsey and Capt. George Chidester serious consideration would be given to the construction of a concrete block building in the vicinity of the North End Playground to house fire fighting equipment for the protection of residents north of the B&O tracks. A service station building on the approximate site had been sold and will be razed. The equipment is housed in the old Moran building on Morelle Street, which makes it inconvenient for firemen to keep it in running condition.

Discussed the legality and sources of income for group insurance for all city employees and officials. Considered the appointment of a citizens' committee to make a survey of possible sites for parking lots in the business section. The committee would also be asked to assess the valuation of churches, schools and public buildings in Keyser for the purpose of collecting the recently enacted fire prevention tax. Such buildings are not otherwise taxed.

Appointed James Lewis city dog catcher. Lewis was instructed to pick up all dogs running loose in Keyser and impound them. He will be paid $1 per dog.

PTA Meets Tonight WESTERNPORT — St. Peter's Parent-Teacher Association will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the school hall. Classroom visitation will be from 7 to 7:30.

Members of the finance committee are urged to be present to make initial plans for the annual bazaar, according to Mrs. Russell Brown, president.

Shortage Of Funds Closes Area Cannery

MOOREFIELD — Chester B. Hiatt, supervisor of the Moorefield Community Cannery, announced that it would close this week. Hiatt stated that all funds for salaries had been used. The state of West Virginia allocates $400 each year for the operation of the cannery and this amount has been expended. No more funds will be received until the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

Hiatt pointed out that the cannery was almost self supporting but that constantly increasing costs of cans and other materials used up the funds much faster than in normal years.

The community cannery will open only if there is sufficient volume to warrant operation on a self sustaining basis. Further information may be secured from Mrs. Mary Halterman or Hiatt.

Protest Voiced

The Moorefield Lions Club is sending telegrams of protest to the West Virginia Public Service Commission against the action of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in curtailing freight service to the South Branch Valley.

Moorefield business firms were informed of the decrease in service from six days a week to three days a week, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, by phone from the local B&O agent. No advance notice of the change was made.

Protests are also being made by feed companies, the Moorefield Tannery Division of Loewen, and Company and other businesses affected by the cutting of freight service. Petersburg and Romney civic groups and business firms are also protesting the cut in service.

The cut in service came as a complete surprise to the shippers as the B&O branch from Green Spring to Petersburg was reported as one of the most profitable operations on the B&O system.

C. A. Ludwig Jr., president of the civic group, named O. H. Bean and John Chapman as the committee to draft and send the telegrams of protest and to work with representatives of other communities affected by the curtailment in freight service.

Members of the club were entertained with a film issued by the Ontario, Canada, Department of Travel and Publicity showing a tour of American editors from 29 states through the Province of Ontario.

Lead In Three Cage Leagues At Stake Tonight

Valley Quint Invades Alco For Top Slot WMIL Race

Cumberland's Max Elbin is a busy man at Burning Tree when the White House calls him to report that President Eisenhower is on his way to the golf course near Bethesda to play golf. Elbin has no time to change hands this evening regular caddy as a busy slate of 17 contests in at Burning Tree includes 11 games in which quints so when the call will be playing against loop comes Max Elbin.

Max Elbin special assignment. Then it's just a case of driving an electric golf cart to the first tee. Behind the scenes the preparations include periodic checks of the course, Elbin's staff and caddies by Secret Service men. Elbin calls Washington when a new caddy arrives on the scene. The caddy is checked out. Several have been barred.

About the time Washington calls Burning Tree, four Secret Service men beat the President to the course. Elbin inspects the pro shop, clubhouse and grounds. They are as inconspicuous as possible.

The same four follow the President's two some or four some for every hole played. Sometimes they spread out and the WMIL and 0-1 in the "B" walk nonchalantly through the woods surrounding the fairways. Second "B" start while Bruce. The President plays practically 0-2 in the league, opens its county all his golf at Burning Tree when play in Washington. He did play one round in October at Fort Meade, Md., when his host, Gen. Floyd Parks, scored a hole-in-one.

Max never gave President Eisenhower a golf lesson but on occasion he has given him a friendly tip on pitching. Cold weather, rather than his most recent illness, has kept him off the course.

Incidentally, Elbin will soon be starting his 12th year as pro at Burning Tree. The former Cumberland Country Club caddy went to work for Lew Worsham, the 1947 National Open champ, and became head pro in May, 1946 when Lew hit the tournament trail.

Sports Keg Residue

Area basketball fans planning to sit in on that big game tomorrow night at College Park between Maryland and North Carolina could make it a big day by getting to the Terp campus early. Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Maryland's undefeated wrestling team takes on unbeaten Pitt, a perennial national power, and at the same time Terrapin swimmers will face undefeated North Carolina. . . . Pitt's wrestlers were runnersup for the national title last season and boast a United States champ in 167-pound Tom Alberts. . . . Maryland swimmers will take a 4-1 record into its meet with Carolina, ranked fifth in the nation last year. . . . Both events will take place in Cole Field House, as will the basketball game. . . . Jack Fisher, the former Frostburg Little Leaguer who was signed last year by the Baltimore Orioles following his graduation from high school in Georgia, is on the 1958 spring-training roster of the Birds. . . . The 18-year-old right-handed chucker appeared in 39 innings with Knoxville of the Class A Sally League last season but failed to crash the win column, finishing with an 0-5 record. . . . The only other Marylander on the Baltimore roster is Leo Burke, the onetime Hagerstown High and Virginia Tech three-sport star. . . . An outfielder, Leo played last season for San Antonio in the Texas League and Knoxville. . . . Maryland had three football players in post-season games and all were starters. . . . Tackle Don Healy played for the East in the Shrine game at San Francisco. Gene Alderton started at guard for the North in the Christmas night tussle at Miami and end Ed Cooke played for the Blue in the Blue-Gray battle at Montgomery, Ala. . . . Healy is also slated to play tomorrow in the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala. . . . Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the 63-year-old dean of racing trainers, says the secret of raising horses and children is the same—love 'em a lot, but don't let 'em get away with anything. . . . Mr. Fitz, currently holding forth at Hialeah Park in Florida with his three-year-old champion, Bold Ruler, doesn't believe there are any "bad" horses or children—only victims of sloppy training. . . . Whether it's horses or children, he opines "once a youngster learns to trust you, he'll take punishment from you and profit by it." . . . Mr. Fitz insists that even the notably obstreperous Nashua wasn't really a bad actor. . . . Always so many people around, he just got excited. . . . Like small children, he adds, race horses are fond of pets, goodies and having their own way.

Steelers Sign Krisher
PITTSBURGH, Pa.—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today signed Bill Krisher, Oklahoma guard who was the Steelers' No. 3 choice in the NFL draft.

By JIM DAY

Times Scholastic Sports Editor
The lead in three of the area's high school basketball leagues has no change hands this evening regular caddy as a busy slate of 17 contests in at Burning Tree includes 11 games in which quints so when the call will be playing against loop comes Max Elbin.

Highlighting the card will be one of his top the second local appearance of bag-toters to Valley High as the Black Knights stand by for a battle with Allegany on the Campobello boards for first place in the Western Maryland Inter-scholastic League. The two clubs, who shared the title last winter, are deadlocked for first place in the race with spotless 2-0 records. The victor takes possession of the circuit lead.

That clash will be one of the three WMIL frays on tap, the other two finding Fort Hill being host to Beall and Mt. Savage invading Westernport to meet Bruce. The Sentinels, with a 1-1 slate for league activity, will also be making their first County Class A start while Beall (1-1) plays its second.

Allegany, last year's County A king, has the lead in that three-way race, whipping Beall, 69-39, on Tuesday to launch the "A" competition. Mt. Savage, 0-2 in the "B" walk nonchalantly through the woods surrounding the fairways. Second "B" start while Bruce. The President plays practically 0-2 in the league, opens its county all his golf at Burning Tree when play in Washington. He did play one round in October at Fort Meade, Md., when his host, Gen. Floyd Parks, scored a hole-in-one.

Both Show Improvement
The Campers, who have shown rapid improvement in every race, will carry a 3-3 mark into the "big battle" against the Black Knights who have also rebounded after a slow getaway and are 5-3 for the campaign. The Knights have won their last three while Alco boasts a two-game win streak.

In Valley's only other game here, the opener against LaSalle, the Knights were handed a 61-50 defeat. LaSalle's unbeaten Explorers have an exhibition game coming up tonight on the SS. Peter and Paul court as the Men of LaSalle oppose coach George Geatz's charges at 8 o'clock. Ursuline Academy's undefeated sextet will play St. Mary's girls in the preliminary at 7 o'clock.

The Explorers, who have won 10 games, will be idle against high school opposition until next Tuesday when they face Hyndman on the local boards. LaSalle is the only all-winning quint in the district. The Potomac Valley Conference has one of its busiest schedules of the year with a half-dozen battles carded. Featuring the list will be the game at Piedmont when coach "Huck" Miers Lions shoot for their fifth without a loss in the conference by facing Moorefield.

The Lions, with an overall mark of only one loss in seven starts, keep the lead by making the Jackets their seventh victim. Moorefield shows a season tally of 5-3 while compiling a 4-3 PVC total.

MORE HONORS FOR TED—Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, shown in action last season, today was named the outstanding male athlete for 1957. Ted Williams Selected '57's Top Male Athlete

By MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

Ted Williams, king of the batters at the age of 39, today was named the outstanding Male Athlete of the Year for 1957 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

It was the first time in his long, stormy and dramatic career that the tall Boston Red Sox slugger was chosen for the honor, one of the great prizes in sports.

The recognition came seven weeks after he was nosed out by Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees for the Most Valuable Player award of the American League.

The selection by a committee of baseball writers kicked up a mighty storm because one writer picked Williams for ninth place and another named him tenth.

Wins By Big Margin
In the AP Poll, Williams won by a whopping margin over Milwaukee pitcher Lew Burdette, the star of the World Series, with the middleweight boxing champion Carmen Basilio a trailing third.

Mantle winner of AP's Athlete of the Year poll for 1956 and the American League's MVP for 1956 and 1957, finished in a tie for 13th this year with only one first place designation and 14 points.

Williams received 85 first place votes from the 214 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll, and 434 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first, two for second and one for third.

To Get Miller Trophy
Burdette, who hurled three complete, winning games to beat the Yankees in the series, collected 54 first place votes and 226 points.

Basilio, who moved up from the welterweight championship to the middleweight throne by defeating Sugar Ray Robinson in a stirring battle, garnered 17 first place votes and 113 points.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles—Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy, awarded to the winner of the AP poll, will be presented to Williams later this month.

Behind Williams, Burdette and Basilio, came All-America back John Crow, Texas A & M (67); Stan Musial, St. Louis' National League batting king (46); Will Chamberlain, the tower of Kansas basketball (42); Dick Mayer, the open goal champion (41); Jimmy Brown, rookie power back to football Cleveland Browns (40); Piedmont and Paw Paw Coach and heavyweight champion Floyd Quentin Sayers' charges won the Hawks' boards with a last-period spurt, 62-59.

Keyser and the Stags (2-2) are also tangling for the second time with the Golden Tornado out to avenge the upset, 43-42, scored by the Elks on their court. Keyser has won two and lost two against league opponents while being 4-3 for the season.

Yogi Berra's Pay Reduced To $50,000

NEW YORK (AP)—"Why did you lose the World Series?" a fellow asked Yogi Berra.

"Lew Burdette, I guess," the New York Yankee catcher said glumly. "He beat us three. Who else? You've got to say Burdette."

"They can't blame you, Yogi," somebody said. "You hit .300 in the Series."

"Three hundred and twenty," Berra corrected.

"And still they cut you," this persistent needler continued. "Look over there is Jerry Coleman (now retired from the field and a budding executive). He hit .364 and they gave him a raise."

The needling was all in fun for Berra had just signed his 1958 contract and this was a press conference to announce it.

Berra told the boys he had taken a "slight cut." By the mysterious process known only to baseball writers, it was decided by hint and insinuation that Yogi will get about $50,000 next summer.

The talk soon shifted to Berra's poor year. His .251 average was the lowest of his career, major or minor, and almost 40 points below his lifetime record. Still he hit 24 homers and drove in 82 runs, both tops for a major league catcher in 1957. He also led all the receivers with a .995 fielding average.

"I just didn't get the hits," Berra said.

"Everytime I hit the ball good it seemed to go right at somebody or curve foul."

This is his 12th full year coming up, he added. "They say every ballplayer is entitled to one bad year. If I have another, then I'll begin to worry."

Rosburg Leads In Crosby Open

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bob Rosburg, one of golf's great putters, headed into the rain-threatened second round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby Tournament today with a two-stroke lead and a tough course facing him.

Rosburg, sinking putts up to 30 feet, fashioned a 7-under-par 63 over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club layout as 280 amateurs and pros tackled two courses.

The Knicks, who snapped Boston's 14-game winning streak at the start of the season, and the Celtics have met six times. Each has won three.

The New Yorkers caught the Celtics without Bill Russell last night and squared the series with a 126-123 victory in the first half of a doubleheader at Syracuse.

The Nats then took advantage of the opening, edged Minneapolis 127-122, and moved within 8½ games of Boston, New York, going above .500, pulled within eight games of the top.

Robertson Breaks Garden Mark, Hooping 56 Points

By FRED DE LUCA

NEW YORK (INS)—Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's fabulous sophomore, perched himself atop the college basketball world today with an historic performance which brought back memories of greatness in the arena that once was the mecca of the nation's hoop sport.

The dynamic 19-year-old Robertson scored a record-shattering 56 points last night as Cincinnati walloped Seton Hall, 118 to 54, at Madison Square Garden, the "haunted house" which in the past staged glittering efforts by the likes of Hank Luisetti, George Mikan and other phenoms.

Only 4,615 fans were on hand for the memorable occasion. First they saw Xavier of Ohio beat Iona, 71 to 61. Then the versatile 6-5 Robertson and his Bearcat mates went to town and the masterful Oscar moved to the head of the class in the nation's individual scoring department.

Breaks Boykoff Record
His 56 points (39 of them in the first half) was the highest total ever registered by an individual at the Garden. The old collegiate record of 54 was set by Harry Boykoff of St. John's in 1947, and the high pro mark is 49 held by Neil Johnston of Philadelphia.

Robertson's point-pouring also gave him a season's total of 333, moving ahead of Wilt Chamberlain (322) of Kansas in the race for national scoring honors.

Seventh-ranked Cincinnati, which had a 58-20 halftime lead, built its record to 9-2 while setting a new intercollegiate Garden scoring record with its 118 points.

Bradley tallied 116 last year against Xavier.

Robertson hit for 22 field goals and 12 fouls. He captured 15 rebounds, made six assists and gave a brilliant all-around demonstration of offensive and defensive versatility.

First New York Game
His 22 field goals bettered the Garden mark of 21 set by Mikan when he was with DePaul in 1945.

Huge George tallied 53 points against Rhode Island in that game.

Robertson, a Hoosier who attended high school in Indianapolis, averaged 33 points as a freshman. Last night was his first appearance in New York.

North Carolina's fourth-ranked Tar Heels didn't have it so easy. J. Martin has appealed his 12-year suspension by the Maryland Racing Commission.

Martin's appeal was filed yesterday by attorneys George P. Cavanaugh and George W. Della. Martin was suspended in November on a charge of soliciting bets. It was the second in recent years for the Baltimore-born rider.

In 1951, Martin was suspended for 10 years for betting against a horse he rode at Laurel. This Harvey Salz contributed 19 more, was lifted in 1953 on a probational basis.

The twosome scored crucial baskets.

Ivy Accepts Cardinal Job As Challenge

CHICAGO (AP)—Now that the Chicago Cardinals have plucked 41-year-old Frank Ivy from the Canadian Football League as their 19th head coach, the question is—

Can Ivy, well versed in winning under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma and a successful coach in Canadian football, revive the cellar-dwelling Cards into a real contender in the National Football League?

Ivy, who was appointed coach last night succeeding the resigned Ray Richards, faces a stiff challenge—a challenge that has seen eight Card coaches shuffle out of Chicago in the last 10 years.

But, Ivy says he's used to winning and that's enough for Cardinal managing director Walt Wolfner.

In announcing Ivy's appointment, Wolfner told newsmen: "Ivy's the man we wanted since Richards resigned Saturday and we feel he'll do a fine job. He's got the winning touch and it's bound to rub off on the players. He's a hard-working coach. He's the answer to our problems."

Ivy, who played six years as a top tight defensive end with the Cards intermittently from 1940-47, said he had a "lot of work" ahead of him in his new job.

In four years in the pro ranks, Ivy, a native of Skiatook, Okla., won four Canadian Western Division titles and grabbed the All-Canadian championship three years running—1954-55-56—while coaching the Edmonton Eskimos.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

"West opened the jack of spades. I played low from dummy and naturally East showed up with the king. Back came a spade and I had worries. If I had just seen the king of diamonds in the East hand I would have gone after that suit but I had an extra chance running for me. Maybe East held a singleton king of clubs. In any event it could only cost me an extra hundred points to see about it and I played a low club from dummy.

"Out came the king from East and everything looked rosy. I took my ace, led the nine of clubs and let it ride. East now produced the jack and returned a spade. I was down to two tricks.

"If East did it intentionally it was quite a play," I remarked. "I imagine it was another lucky accident."

"It sure was but I can't call it lucky," he replied. "When East took his jack of clubs he apologized profusely to his partner for having played the king by mistake."

Ways To Aid Recovery Suggested

Economist Forecasts Business Decline In Spring Months

BALTIMORE (AP)—An economist with political ambitions has predicted a business decline during the spring, followed by a recovery. He proposed ways of speeding the recovery.

Dr. Clarence D. Long, the Johns Hopkins University economics professor who is seeking the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate, told the National Assn. of Waste Material Dealers yesterday that unemployment will increase this spring.

Prosperity will return several months later on a wave of new construction, consumer spending for non-durable goods and a steady rise in local and state government spending, he said.

Dr. Long suggested these ways of speeding the recovery:

1. Liberalizing unemployment insurance benefits to sustain the purchasing power of the unemployed.

2. Encouraging employment of older workers by inducing industry to relax its rules and giving tax breaks to cooperating industries.

3. Liberalizing credit and reducing interest rates for home buyers and small business and expanding the loan program of the Small Business Administration.

4. Stimulating small business participation in government contracts.

5. Providing a tax break for small business.

6. Reducing paper work by consolidating wage and tax reports to the federal government.

Deeds Recorded At Court House

The B&O Railroad deeded a tract on Blackiston Avenue to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland. The land is part of the tract involved in the B&O yard expansion program in that area. No consideration was listed along with the deed.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners deeded a tract on Fairmont Avenue to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland for $1. The land will be used as part of a playground area.

Undercover Agent Blinded By Attacker

Man Has Been Aiding Clarksburg Police In Liquor Raids

CLARKSBURG (AP)—A police undercover agent was assaulted at the door of his apartment early today by an assailant who threw a liquid — not acid — into his face and temporarily blinded him.

John Bell, about 50, a retired coal miner who had been working with the Clarksburg police department as an undercover agent, reported the assault was committed at his apartment in the 600 block of West Pike Street.

Police Lt. C. F. Wilson said he and three patrolmen removed Bell to the hospital, where he was treated for temporary blindness and a head wound.

The eye specialist who treated him said there were no skin burns to indicate acid, and the nature of the liquid tossed into Bell's face was not readily identifiable.

Bell said there was a knock on his door about 1:16 a. m. He called: "Who's there?" The answer came back: "They want you at the police department."

When he opened the door, Bell said an unidentified person was waiting who said: "Here's something for you."

Bell said some kind of liquid was hurled into his face and he was swiftly struck on the head. He had a wound above the left eye.

Bell, who has a wife and two children, said he was blinded temporarily but was recovering his sight when the officers arrived.

Police officials said Bell had been employed in a series of investigations which led to recent liquor raids which resulted in fines and bonds of more than $5,000.
